

Fanatic Fools

written by Dennis Roth (2005)

Verse 1

In a dusty tent in the desert sand
In a white house black and dark inside
Fanatic Fools are all around
So sad how ignorance can destroy

Verse 2

Anyone who doesn't believe in the way you want him to
Will end in your hell like you will in someone's hell
You demand of tolerance abusing tolerance yourself
Did you never learn that only love can save the world?

Chorus

Fanatic Fools don't understand
Fanatic Fools don't tolerate
Fanatic Fools ain't strong
Fanatic Fools are wrong

Verse 3

So you fight against everything you blame for your misery
Everyone shall see that you're racked with pain
You demand of tolerance abusing tolerance yourself
Did you never learn that only love can save the world?

Bridge

Poor people who have to seek for love so far away
Did you never understand that everything does change?
The books you try to read will be dust and so you will Sad how ignorance can destroy
